Grace and Charlotte are dubbed as the "dynamic duo" in both the online and offline space. They are business start up strategists, and digital marketers working mainly with female entrepreneurs and are the Co-founders of the business startup agency named after their brand "Grace and Charlotte" and The PodcastPR agency.

They mainly serve female entrepreneurs who are building a business alongside their 9 -5 and support them in creating impact, influence and income online. Grace and Charlotte -Business Startup Agency provides a wide range programs, services and events to aid business startup and growth online.

The PodcastPR agency assists female entrepreneurs to "be seen and heard" on the podcast airwaves. We work with female entrepreneurs like you to get you booked on podcasts as an expert guest, on shows that are relevant to your professional niche. Our goal is to prepare you for a range of relevant shows that will help you get exposure to new audiences, build trust and authority in your personal brand, and improve your online search visibility.

With over a decade's worth of small business start-up and growth experience, the ladies are fast becoming influencers in their circles both on and offline. They are also currently working on her forthcoming co - authored book "Think.Create.Initiate (From Side Hustle to Startup)", which is soon to be released later on this year. The ladies will be releasing a joint podcast soon with the same name as the forthcoming book.

Charlotte is a mum of two daughters including a newborn and is passionate about helping other women fulfil their potential. She hosts her own podcast "Success Even for a Girl Like Me". Grace is a Project Manager by profession and has an empowerment brand called "Redefined and Driven, Unlimit Your Limits", which empowers women around their world to find their purpose, embrace their greatness and make an impact in this world. This is also the name of her recently launched podcast show.

Both ladies are also the co-founders of the Facebook Community - The Female Entrepreneur Collective.
